

Bringing Treats to Class:

MCC Academy does not allow parents to bring any food or snack items to be brought to classes for the purpose of distributing to students. Our policy is based on two principles:

1. We want to avoid any allergic reactions to our students due to the ingredients found in many snacks and junk foods such as nut oil used in most snacks, use of dairy products or eggs, etc.
2. Allhumdullilah, we have a very diverse religious community who have very diverse dietary preferences. We want to avoid the confusion for our parents and students as to whether a food item brought by other parents for class has halal or questionable ingredients.

In accordance with this, MCC Academy does not allow cakes, cupcakes, donuts, candy, brownies, chips, fruit based snacks, yogurt, soda pop and similar other items to be brought as treats to the classrooms. We understand that as parents you want to celebrate your child's achievements, we only ask that you select instead other choices, such as listed below:

- Stickers
- Pencils
- Erasers
- Small toys
- Color pencils or crayons

Your cooperation is very important to us for keeping all of our students safe and healthy.
